Swing for Success Golf Event To Benefit Blind, Deaf Children Statewide

(Phoenix, Arizona)— Arizona Blind & Deaf Children's Foundation today announced its 8th annual golf event to support programs for blind and deaf children throughout the state.

Swing for Success, slated for Friday, April 30 at The Raven at South Mountain, is one of two major fundraisers staged by Arizona Blind & Deaf Children's Foundation each year.

"Last year's event broke all previous records, and we could do it again this year," said Rita Weatherholt, the Foundation's Executive Director. "Our committee has planned a fantastic event; they're aiming for this to be a must-attend for anyone who does the charity golf circuit."

Plans for the event include several high-end contest prizes, enough raffle prizes for virtually every golfer, and an after-golf party golfers will want to bring their spouses to. Features will include a performance by Aussie golf wonder Craig Hocknull and his Outback Golf Trick Shot Show, as well as a full course meal and dancing to a live band.

While the Foundation's aim is to make Swing for Success a staple for Phoenix-area golfers, the event has already captured the hearts of out-of-town guests. Xena Homes, a construction company headquartered in Lakewood, Washington, is this year's National Presenting sponsor.
